

Limerick, Acrostic and Kenning

Limericks

There once was a boy named Steve
Who had lots of tricks up his sleeve
He conjured a rabbit in class
But it escaped in the grass
And so the teacher asked him to leave.

There once was a girl named Kelly
Who ate nothing but strawberry jelly
She loved it on toast
But in spaghetti the most
Because it wiggled inside of her belly.

Kenning

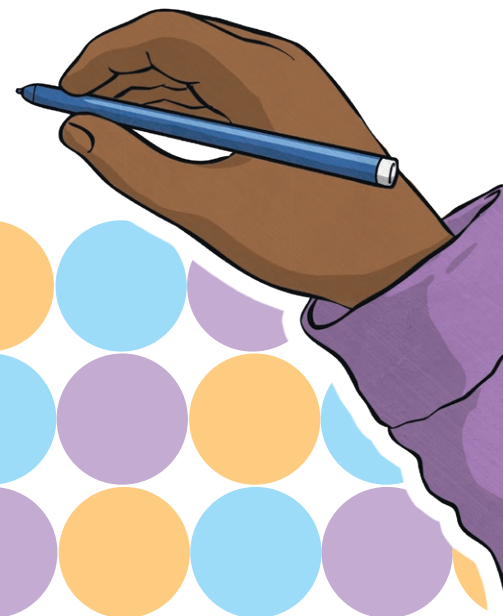

I am ...

A canvas-filler
A shade-blender
A doodle-sketcher
A paint-splasher
A colour-mixer
A pencil-scratcher
A thought-provoker
An image-maker

What am I?

Acrostic

Pointed and slanted
Yellowy gold like the sun
Reaching tall into the cloudless sky
Ancient rituals
Majestic kings and queens lie within Intricate writing and
Drawings on the walls
Sandy deserts surrounding the structure
